Working With Archived Content

Once you configure ArchiveOne, and configure and run policies, when a user logs into a mailbox, messages are replaced with a message link, which displays an envelope icon with an A next to it. The behavior of this message link depends on whether you have installed the Quick Link Client. If Quick Link Client is installed, double-click the message link to silently retrieve the archived message and display it as a Microsoft Outlook message. Otherwise, the archived message displays using Outlook Web Access (OWA), if enabled.
