
Roles and User Management

<https://campus.barracuda.com/doc/43222774/>

An administrator can grant other users rights to perform certain tasks within ArchiveOne Admin while preventing them from performing other tasks. For example, a Compliance Officer needs to search into any repositories for which she is responsible, but should not be allowed to change the configuration. This is done by assigning users to roles. A role defines what the user can or cannot do. A user in this case is the logged-on Windows user that is running ArchiveOne Admin – there is no separate logon process.
