

ArchiveOne Compliance

<https://campus.barracuda.com/doc/43223072/>

ArchiveOne Compliance allows you to import the configuration into ArchiveOne by choosing Import ArchiveOne Enterprise (Compliance) Settings from the Status node menu. This option is available only if the ArchiveOne and ArchiveOne Enterprise (Compliance) systems share the same configuration server and have the same server running the archiving service, and you have previously run the Journal Archiving Wizard and have not run it before. This imports Mailbox Manager entries, archive searches, repository configuration, and repository history. It does not import samplings, investigations, auto tags, tag definitions or many of the configuration items found in the Configuration Wizard.

You should find in ArchiveOne all the user interface elements you are used to seeing in ArchiveOne Enterprise (Compliance). There are no features to configure the size of a journal mailbox data before starting to archive it but most other things have direct equivalents.
