Restore Job Settings

To schedule a restore job to happen at a particular time, change the Schedule Type to Run on specific day and then set the start time and date. The service will ensure that the restore will happen at that time.

Verify Job Settings

Like the restore job, you can schedule a verify to happen at a particular time as well. Additionally, you can specify whether the job is a Full or a Quick verify. A full verify compares the contents of the backup media with the source files on disk. A quick verify will only validate that the media can be read from end to end.
