My company is a Partner. How do I obtain a login account?

Partner accounts must be explicitly created in the Barracuda Partner database and cannot be created by the user.

If you don't have an account yet, you can do any of the following:

- Contact your Campus Manager (see section What is a Campus Manager below) who can request an account via Campus
- Contact your Sales Representative
- Send an email to campus@barracuda.com and provide the following information:
  - first name
  - last name
  - your company email address
  - job title
  - complete company name and address
  - In addition, a brief approval from your Manager is required in order to create the partner account for you

When you are logged in as Partner, your reseller ID is displayed under your company name, and the navigation bar offers an additional menu, containing tabs for your company.
