My browser has problems loading fonts and icons.

This is a common problem in Internet Explorer 11 when using restrictive security policies. There is a security setting that can disable all downloadable fonts. Under Tools > Internet Options > Security > Custom level > Downloads, look for Font Download. Font downloads should be enabled with the default security level.
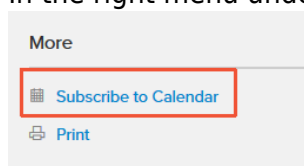

If security has been set to 'high', fonts may not load. You can either use a different browser (such as Google Chrome or Mozilla Firefox) or enable downloading of fonts.
