https://campus.barracuda.com/doc/96773368/

This topic includes the following:

- Navigating with the navigation menu
- Hiding and showing the navigation menu

> You can also select your account.

Navigating with the navigation menu

By default, the navigation menu is displayed on the left side of the Barracuda XDR Dashboard window.

You use this menu to navigation to switch between pages. Simply click any item in the navigation menu to open the page.

Hiding and showing the navigation menu

To display more information, you can hide the navigation menu, which gives you additional space. If the navigation menu has been hidden, you can show it at any time.

By default, the navigation menu is displayed.

To show or hide the navigation menu

- Click the button next to the Barracuda MSP logo.
