Analyzing Email Threat Types

https://campus.barracuda.com/doc/96774318/
On the Email Security page, you can view a bar graph that displays email threat types. This graph gives you quick insight into what are the most common types of threats for your environment. This lets you make the best decisions for safeguarding your users, whether it is through additional protection or education.

You can also click any bar in the graph to focus the Email Security page on that single threat type.

If you don't see the charts and graphs on the Email Security page, click the Show Charts link.

To analyze the types of threat to emails in your environment

1. In Barracuda XDR Dashboard, click Intelligence > Email Security.
2. Scroll down to the Threat Types graph.

To focus the Email Protection page on a single threat type

1. In Barracuda XDR Dashboard, click Intelligence > Email Security.
2. Scroll down to the Threat Types graph.
3. Click any bar in the graph to focus the Email Security page.
   The Email Security page reloads with an analysis of that threat type.

To return to a page that shows all the threat types, see To remove filter or *To remove all filter*s in Filtering the Email Protection Page.
