

IMPERSONATOR

Impersonators gain access to secure businesses and office spaces by pretending to be someone else.

Whether it's a pizza delivery person or building inspector, impersonators always assume a role that seems legitimate.

Ask for credentials in these situations!

If the suspected impersonator can't provide identification or if you feel something isn't right, notify security.

