ARE YOU GETTING THE MOST FROM YOUR PHISHLINE RESOURCES?

FROM CAMPAIGN DEVELOPMENT TO CUSTOM TRAINING, WE'RE HERE TO HELP

Running an information security training program can be difficult work. That's why we'd like to re-acquaint you with the tools and resources we offer that make the challenging job of protecting your employees and company from cybercriminals easier.

Whether you're just starting a program or gaining traction with an existing one, PhishLine has you covered.

It starts with your consultant who can help you navigate an ever-expanding library of training modules, prepackaged campaigns and more.

We want you to succeed in your role, and we're dedicating this issue of Click Thinking to the people and tools who can help. Enjoy!

Consultants: Part Problem Solver, (Part Terrier)

Like a dog with a bone, your PhishLine consultant is wired to sink his or her teeth into a challenge and not let go until it's been resolved.

With thousands of hours of combined experience using the PhishLine tool and Content Center Marketplace™, your consultant is your go-to ally who can step in and help whenever you need it.

What to look for in the ever-expanding PhishLine Content Center Marketplace™

The Content Center Marketplace™ allows you to easily browse, select and import a wide assortment of content to build effective security awareness campaigns.

Content can be used as is or customized to fit your specific objectives. This way you can rest assured your training and the data it delivers is on target.

Here's just some of the recently-added material you can use to fortify your employees and company against online threats from cybercriminals.

More than 20 new training modules—with or without quizzes—covering a wide range of security awareness topics.

400+ new and existing email templates that can be used as is or tailored to your needs.

WHAT'S ON THE HORIZON?
A Click Thinking game that lets users make choices to create their own adventures. More to come!
