

Click Thinking Newsletter

When the job of ensuring your company's cybersecurity safety rests on your shoulders, you need all the help you can get. We're pleased to provide these updates to help make your job a little easier.

Conquering the 13 Email Threat Types

We're going all out to help you conquer the top email threats to businesses today. It starts with our new ebook, 13 Email Threat Types to Know About Right Now, and includes:

- 13 new quick launch campaigns in the Barracuda PhishLine platform that address each threat (available October 2020).
- A new Click Thinking bundle that tackles spam, one of the most familiar, yet misunderstood, threat types.
- Insights into using this content to improve your company's overall information security stance.

It's our way of helping you fortify your organization against cyber-threats. If you have questions contact Barracuda Support.

Still Time to Sign Up for October Benchmarking

Sign up now for the October Benchmarking campaign to make sure your company is included in this important effort to help organizations assess how vulnerable front-line employees are to email phishing attacks.

By simulating a real phishing campaign for all participants, benchmarking lets you find out safely and securely where your company stands and compares to industry standards. This way you can mitigate risk and fortify your overall information security stance! Contact Barracuda Support to sign up by October 9, 2020!

Fighting COVID-19 Related Phishing Scams

While the COVID-19 pandemic has brought out the best in many, scammers are using the pandemic to exploit companies through a variety of phishing attacks. To help fortify your business against these threats, Barracuda PhishLine is adding new content weekly that mimics popular coronavirus-related scams.

The search term COVID will reveal several emails available in the PhishLine tool you can use to test your employee's ability to spot a scam. For assistance with any of these, contact Barracuda Support.
