NEW THIS MONTH

Celebrating Identity Management Day

Established in 2021 as the second Tuesday in April, Identity Management Day was created to educate business leaders, IT decision makers and individuals about the importance of identity management. Here are a few ideas you can run with to further this goal using content from our extensive testing and training catalog:

Run A Data Protection Training Campaign

Our Data Breaches, Data Loss Prevention and Data Classification modules cover core identity protection concepts.

Leverage Our Personally Identifiable Information \(PII\) Module

Do your employees know how data can be pieced together to reveal and steal a customer's identity? This module explains.

Put PCI-DSS To Work

The Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard ensures customer payment data is secure. Our PCI-DSS module outlines how.

Attack Techniques Training Set Complete

Our existing Basic Attack Techniques Interactive Training module now has a counterpart! Advanced Attack Techniques covers additional topics like spear phishing, account take-over and more. Search for them by name in the Content Center.

What's New is New!

Confused? We can explain—we now have a 'What's New In Security Awareness Training' page on Campus. Here you'll find the real world threat emails, training modules and more that have been added to the Content Center over the past month. Check it out here and bookmark it today!

UPDATES

Spring Benchmarking is Underway!

SAT's Spring Benchmarking Campaign launched recently and runs through April 21. This simulated attack helps participants gauge how vulnerable employees are to phishing. When finished each participant receives a custom report revealing click rate, peer industry comparisons and more.

Benchmarking is simple. You sign up and provide a company address book, we run the campaign and provide you with the data and analytics you need to help secure your organization. Our next opportunity to benchmark is in Fall. Watch for details in Click Thinking.

QUICK LAUNCH

Like an EASY Button (But Better)

What do you do when the need to run a simulated phishing campaign competes with everything else on your to-do list? Just click the Quick Launch button in the upper right corner of the SAT dashboard for instant access to a growing catalog of ready-to-go simulations. All you have to do is choose, and you'll be back to your task list in no time!
