NEW THIS MONTH

Ease Into Summer

We know, it's still Spring, but we're thinking one step ahead and making training the least of your worries with lifestyle bundles you can run with this Summer and beyond!

This month we focus on travel and the information security training you can use right now to help employees navigate vacations and time off without compromising your organization. Check out this month's Click Thinking bundle for details.

Future lifestyle bundles include:

• FlexWork: keys to juggling info security and workplace logistics.
• Social : security tips for connecting on social and in everyday life.
• Gadgets: a risk averse guide to using wifi-connected gadgets.
• Shopping: protecting your info when shopping from your device.

New Content Regularly

We take pride in delivering you top-notch training and simulated email phishes regularly. But with so much being added, how can you instantly find the content that's most current?

What's New

Check out the latest training content

Our 'What's New In Security Awareness Training' page located in Campus is the place to look. Here you'll find the real world threat emails, training modules and more that have been added to the Content Center over the past previous months. And you can access this page by clicking the What's New? icon in the upper left corner of the Security Awareness Training dashboard. It's that easy—try it today!

Spring Benchmarking Highlights

The April Benchmarking Campaign is officially in the books! This Spring, we leveraged the highly relevant topic of deepfakes as a phishing email lure. Here are some of the statistical highlights:
> • 55 organizations participated—a new high!
> • Nearly 33,000 emails sent.
> • Average click rate: 6.38%

Our next benchmarking opportunity will take place in October, Cybersecurity Awareness Month. Watch for sign-up details in the September edition of Click Thinking. Looking to benchmark sooner? Previous campaigns are always available to run in the Content Center—just search the term "benchmark"

QUICK LAUNCH ✈

Quick! It's Time to Test!

Running a simulated phishing campaign slip your mind this month and now the CEO is asking? Just click the Quick Launch button in the upper right corner of the SAT dashboard for instant access to a growing catalog of ready-to-go simulations. All you have to do is choose, and you'll have good news for the boss in no time!
