Phishing messages:

All Phishing messages will be sent from deals@financebusiness.net

Each recipient will receive only one of the messages we have selected.

Each message will have some glaring mistakes, as well as potentially a disclaimer advising that it is a training message, in small print. Should anyone click on any of the phishing mail links, they will be taken to a 'landing page' and offered additional guidance training regarding threats.

The landing page will be a static image, providing some educational tips, with the emphasis of strengthening the user's awareness.
